Speaks.

Peace will not the spoils tide West. Crimean expenditures and Turkish jobs cannot it to flow East speedily, and make London and Paris feel it. "Roosward" is now the word all over the region of the Black Sea for English and French soldiers, and rapidly as well as gladly will they obey it. Soon, then will the specie, flow Rooseast.

But can it settle in London and Paris? Australia and California combine their streams, and these will not only reach, but spread themselves here and more in New York, and over the Great West. Doubtless the change will relieve the withdrawal of France and England, and all Europe. Whatever was destined to come will now go steadily, and the flame is hungry. But still more will the United States feel its benefit of the enforced flow, during the coming year, and reap a richer material harvest from it.

Continuation of Gospel Temperance.

Bishop O'Regan, of Connecticut, was on board the Pacific. The Bishop? Pooo, nothing the less, unless to a matter of some interest.

By a general law passed by the Legislature of Connecticut in '46-'47, it was provided that no person, or corporation, for the sale of any spirits in any sustenance office, shall use any sign or interest in his business; that no property appropriated to purposes of religious worship, or for burial, shall vest in any person or persons, unless they be incorporated in accordance with a law of this State; that every dwelling property hereafter carried or conveyed to any individual, shall be deemed to be held in trust for the benefit of the society or congregation using the same, and shall, upon the death of such individual, vest in the trustees of such society, provided such corporation, organized in accordance with the laws of this State, is in existence at the time of the death of such individual. But in case the property is held by an individual, and there is no such corporate body, then it is vested in the State. In the event of such corporate society shall not be longer supported as aforesaid, then, and in that case, the title of such real estate shall revert to the State, and the State shall, in the most summary way, enter upon the same, and sell the same, after such notice as the law may require, and the proceeds of such sale shall be paid into the State Treasury, for the benefit of the common schools of the State.

It is now probable that Bishop O'Regan is dead. He held churches and other real estate for the use of Roman Catholic congregations; they were not organized into corporate bodies, and title law confounds the entire property.

The telegraph reported the name of a Mr. O'Hara in the Connecticut delegation to the Nebraska Convention, as the Pope probably supposed, that he was the official; it turns out, however, that such was not the fact. The Bishop was on the Pacific.

Summary Sixty Pfunds.

The New York Herald most expressly accounts for the low prices of "Genesee State Flour," when compared with the selling rates of "choice extra brands," as follows:

The wheat from which it is ground is chiefly grown in Illinois, and parts of Wisconsin, and Northern Indiana, and especially on the prairies of Illinois, where the farmers raise it in large quantity, regardless of quality. Labor being scarce, the country is brought to bear its aid to the fullest extent. It is put in the ground with which labor is much other growth besides wheat. It is then threshed by machines in the fields, and afterwards run through still more machines, by most of the care in the preparation of the land before planting, the berries are small and light. This is the case with the flour of the best qualities of Oswego, Black Rock and Lockport, in this State, where many of the millers pursue the same course as the prairie farmers, and labor to manufacture the largest quantity with little regard to quality. They do all they can by machinery. Labor is scarce, and they use all the steam, brake, &c.—by machinery, and often roughly and badly heaped with old poles and timber, and sold as common. The wheat is carried West, and chosen shipped to England and France, where American flour is often almost as much the poorest in the world, and the best in the world, the barrels put together that is caused by keeping moisture in it, and, just their knowledge of any property to be left. The consumer on this side, it is said, often complains of American inspectors, who, it is reported, in some instances, have branded the flour for a higher grade than its quality justified.

The contrast between this and the trade from superior and cheap wheat, and, naturally put up for market, with that made at the Genesee, at St. Louis, and other points, is not accounted for by the difference in price. It is estimated that one-half or more of all the flour sold in this market the past season was branded by the class of cheapness and brands.

The Herald is much in error; but its article could suggest to dealers and millers the necessity of honor, they'd be taking a different course of policy, to the end that the reputation of Illinois wheat and flour may be improved in the Eastern markets. The distributing the poor quality of much Western flour to the use of machinery in the harvest fields, and to the hoops in the cooperage, it simply nonsense.

Organization of the Chicago Historical Society.

A number of gentlemen of this city for some weeks past have been engaged in the organization of a society having for its object the preservation of the early history of the North-West. We are glad to be able to announce that the organization is at last completed, and that the Chicago Historical Society has now a fair start, and, we hope, the promise of much usefulness and a permanency for the future. The following officers were elected, after the adoption of the Constitution and By-Laws, at the last meeting:

WILLIAM H. BROOME, President.
W. B. OGDEN, 1st Vice President.
J. YOUNG SCAMMON, 2d Vice President.
WILLIAM BARRY, Recording Secretary.
R. R. WARD, Treasurer.
C. H. RAY, Corresponding Secretary.
WM. BARRY, Librarian.

The next session provides that the treasurer shall deal out property to a corporation of such congregation, when it shall be formed in accordance with the laws of this

WANTED IMMEDIATELY.—A seller buy at this office. One who has had some experience at the business preferred.

CITY PHYSICIAN.—Dr. Brock McVicker was re-elected City Physician at a recent meeting of the Board of Health.

NEW YORK PAPERS.—Many thanks to McNally & Co. for all the New York papers of Wednesday, and in Paige of the Tribune for the Herald.

WORMS.—The last lecture of the course by Prof. O. S. Fowler, will be given this evening at Metropolitan Hall, commencing at 7 3-4 o'clock. Aside from the course he will lecture on Sunday evening for the last time, subject this evening—The Perfect Woman.

CHERRY COURSE.—A special term of the Circuit Court commences on Thursday in the Supervisor's room, in Chamberlin's building. The regular docket has been up, and the term will probably continue rapidly until the regular May term commences.

CORNER'S CHAIR.—The fair haired vocalists, Mr. and Mrs. L. V. H. Crosby are on their way West. They will be in Chicago in two or three weeks, when they purpose to remain a month. Students will be delighted to hear them.

CHICAGO CYCLOPS HOUSE.—We learn that the contract for the construction of this building has been let to a resident of Rochester, N. Y., and that its construction is to be commenced immediately. The elements of the late upon which it is to be staid, corner of Madison and Dearborn streets, have been notified to remove the present wooden buildings forthwith.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH PASTOR.—The First Baptist Church of this city sometime since extended a call to the Rev. W. G. Howard, D. D., of Rochester, N. Y., to become its pastor. The call, we learn, has been accepted by Mr. H., and that he will enter upon the discharge of his duties on the first or second Sabbath in May. Mr. Howard is said to be an elegant man.

ST. GEORGE'S SOCIETY.—The members of the St. George's Society of Illinois, held a meeting last evening, and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, J. Edward Williams; 1st Vice President, James A. Marshall; 2nd Vice President, Thomas Webb; Secretary, Edward Martin; Treasurer, Wm. H. Davis; Physician, Dr. Mitchell; Orator, Rev. Mr. Smallwood; Visiting Committee, Wm. Waymire, S. Rafter, W. R. Horner, W. Ill, and F. A. Bryan.

WE call attention to the advertisement of a Young Ladies' School, about to be opened by the Misses S. M. Lane and C. A. Baker. Their recommendations are of the highest character. Friends, in whose judgement we rely, represent these ladies as in all respects thoroughly worthy and capable. Teachers on whom parents may rely for thoroughness, and that influence sure to develop mind and character. Such a school on the part of those who desire to have their children well educated.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—A man named Croply, the driver of an express wagon numbered 13, ran over a small boy on Lake street yesterday afternoon, and while he was crossing Randolph street at the corner of Clarke, Sharpe was considerably injured, but was able to walk up to Justice DeWolf's office, and made complaint. The wagon was immediately arrested by the Police, and fined $25 by the Justice. A severe fine but a just one, which will serve as a warning to other drivers.

STRANGE.—While the broad prairie stretches miles away upon three sides of our city, Society—and lastly, even the poor—are huddled together in front of palaces in which to hold its levees, and then its votaries are smothered in half-stifled breathing-places. This seems strange—"passing strange"—yet so it is, and so it will continue to be, unless some one of wealth and taste shall, this evening—The Perfect Woman.

THE PRESIDENT AND SUMMER VARIATIONS.—Dr. Sanford, the President, and Mr. Sanford, the Secretary of the Union Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Portland, Maine, have issued a circular in relation to the variations of the Thermometer, and the effect it has upon the health of the people. The Thermometer, as a matter of course, is the subject of much conversation at this season of the year, and the words of Congressman Stanton, of Ohio, in relation to the Thermometer, are quoted in the circular. The Thermometer, says Mr. Stanton, is a very good thing in its place, but it is not the only thing. Its proper place is in the Physician's Consulting Room, where he can consult it in connection with the pulse and tongue of his patient. Its proper place is not in the hands of the people, who are apt to consult it only when they are sick, and then to their sorrow. Dr. Sanford says that the Thermometer is a very good thing in its place, but that its place is not in the hands of the people.
